Latin-English — Rivalry at Its Best

By GERRY MOORE, Latin '28
Boston Post Sports Writer

So you think that this Latin-English game is over when the referee pounces on the ball and waves his arms in the familiar gesture of finis?

That's where you're wrong. This oldest of all high school football rivalries goes on for 365 days every year and an extra 24 hours whenever Leap Year comes around. For those who like redundancy, you might say the traditional Turkey Day tangle is perpetual.

At least, that situation is true among the products of the two old schools now writing sports for Boston's metropolitan dailies.

The scene could be the Sarasota, Florida training headquarters of the Red Sox. A debate is going on about the relative merits of Ted Williams and Stan Musial or Jim Piersall and Tris Speaker.

A stray voice suddenly chirps up with: "Why, we'll murder you guys this year!" You look around and the speaker is identified as Hy Hurwitz of the Globe, English '27, who has reversed his field and is making football predictions about his Alma Mater.

Or the scene could be the regular major league baseball season. Bill Stewart, Sr. has just finished umpiring behind the plate, but he turns to Henry McKenna of the Herald, Latin '25, and observes: "Young Bill looks as if he'll have a good team this year. You fellows will have to watch out."

Tom FitzGerald of the Globe, Latin '29, can be covering a Northeastern-Vermont football game, but his mind wanders back a couple of years. "That Mike Semans is quite a passer," murmurs Tom. "Wish we had him again this Thanksgiving."

Even Herb Ralby of the Globe, Latin '30 and one of the hottest hockey devotees of all time, will take his mind off the Bruins once in a while and start speculating on the Purple and White's chances against the Blue and Blue.

When Will Cloney, Latin '30, left the Herald this Summer to take over as sports editor at the Post, Sports Editor Ed Costello of the Herald made him a proposition. He offered Cloney a chance to lend himself back to the Herald today in order to keep intact his record of having covered 23 straight Latin-English classics for the Herald.

It is all a lot of fun and a little bit of Americana in its way. There's just one thing for you upcoming Latin and English grads to remember. All this rivalry among us graying grads is strictly verbal. Any physical contact ends the instant that final whistle is blown on the field of play.

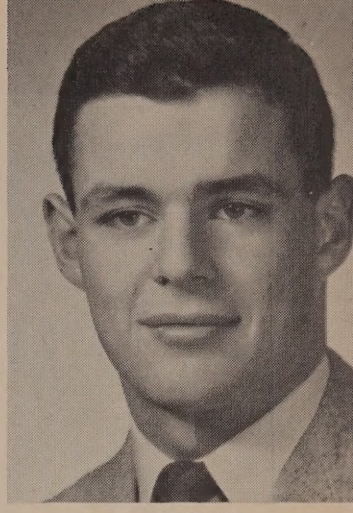
Sentimentally My Favorite — English

By JIM CARIOFILES, English '45



CAPTAIN
DONALD GAUTREAU
Boston English

For the first time in several years, the English-Latin game won't decide the city championship. English has had an up-and-down season. Latin has been more successful and seems to have the better team, on paper, anyway. Which will prove the better team on the hallowed turf of Harvard Stadium, however, is the question being asked for the 67th time this morning as the two teams renew the nation's oldest high school football rivalry.

That's right. This is the one with the most tradition and ivy draped around it. That's why trying to pick the winner of any English-Latin game is such a difficult thing. More often than not, the underdog has come up with a tremendous team effort and humbled its favored foe.

Coach Bill Stewart's squad finds itself in the under-dog's role today for the second year in a row. The Purple came through on schedule to win its 25th game over the Double Blue last season, but here's one voice from the press pews that says it won't happen this time.

I'm picking English mostly for sentimental reasons, being a proud, though not-so-old Blue myself, but also because there are extenuating circumstances.

First and foremost is the fact that I'll be "covering" an English-Latin game for the first time although I've seen six of the 11 games since 1942. This brings us to the second consideration—mainly that none of those six Blue and Blue teams I've seen have lost to the Purple and White. I've been picking my spots pretty well, huh? In any case, the best Latin has been able to do under my evil eye is to hold the English elevens of 1943 and 1945 to scoreless ties. Latin took a lacing in each of the other four games I saw.

Some great football is packed into those six games. But English-Latin games always are full of thrills, despite the awful weather that usually forms the backdrop for this unbroken string of Thanksgiving Day meetings started back in 1887 on Boston Common.

The 1943 game, one not to be forgotten, is a good example. It was the last one played at Braves Field. What a day — nothing but rain and mud!

B. L. S. used that mud to hold E. H. S. to a tie, but Captain Andy Kelley and yours truly still aren't convinced. Andy, who told me all about the biggest robbery before Brink's in French class a couple of days later, apparently scored a touchdown in the closing minutes when he caught a pass from the great Giles Powell and was dropped right at the goal line by Latin's Pete Garvey. From my seat, it looked like a score. Andy thought it was, too, but one of those guys in the striped pants whose always dropping a red handkerchief said nay, nay, giving lucky Latin a zero-zero tie.

Then there was the 1944 game, first at Harvard Stadium. English won, 13-7, when Bob Murphy blocked an end zone punt and won a torrid race to the far corner for the recovery and winning touchdown. And let's not overlook the 26-13 comeback victory English scored in 1946, led by Capt. Mario Dell Orfano, Danny Brosnahan and Chris Karys. Or the scoring riot of 1950 at White Stadium when trackman Gerry O'Leary acted like he was at a track meet by racing to three touchdowns (despite a muddy field) to pace a 41-30 wowser in favor of English. The game broke all previous scoring marks and also broke a two-year losing streak for the Double Blue.

Which team goes home "broke" today we'll soon find out. From here, it looks like Capt. Don Gautreau's squad is going to end the season by hitting the jackpot. After all, this game is the "Lucky Seventh" for me and Dame Fortune can't desert me now. Come on, English, go get 'em!

McCarthy to Doherty forward for 29 yards to the one and Katz took it over . . . Musco (E) was all over the field intercepting passes . . . EHS "freshmen" stopped BLS on the two yard line as the game drew to a close . . . Stars for the Blue: McCarthy, Warren, Kopans, Downes, Rabinovitz and Lichtenstein.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

1938 . . . EHS 6 — BLS 0 . . . The Blue was given only one scoring chance and cashed in . . . Fourth down on the BLS 24, Lambert, present assistant coach at BLS back to kick . . . Pass sailed over his head . . . chased ball, picked up on BLS one only to be tackled there by King. . . . The Blue's ball and they scored immediately, sending Reale through the line . . . Twice Latin was in position to score when the ball carrying of Hoar, Beyer and Havey brought Latin close to the goal . . . but the EHS line turned back all threats when the goal line was in danger. . . . Krajewski (L) blocked a Reale punt on the EHS seven, but Latin's drive fizzled out on the Blue's one . . . Blue Stars: Capt. Vin Hickey, Marty Howard, Joe King and Francis Reale . . . Purple Stars: Co-Captains Eddie Lambert, and Wally Hoar, Beyer and Krajewski.

TEN YEARS AGO

1943 . . . BLS 0 — EHS 0 . . . Muddy playing field . . . 20,000 there . . . The thrills were reserved for the end of the game . . . As one writer put it — "Frantically leaping for the end zone after catching a pass from the great Giles Powell on the one yard line, Capt. Andy Kelly, towering EHS right end, found himself beaten to the ground inches from the Latin goal by Pete Garvin, Latin fullback, on the second last play of the 57th Annual Game between these rivals" . . . Workhorse Powell personally supervised every Blue and Blue advance . . . Walter Harwood carried the Latin team . . . Purple stars: Harwood, Gallagher, Garvin, and Shields . . . Blue Stars: Powell, Maloney, Brady and Kelly.

FIVE YEARS AGO

1948 . . . BLS 19 — EHS 0 . . . Harvard Stadium . . . 23,000 drizzle drenched fans saw Latin win 19-0 . . . Since 1941 BLS's record in the series was 0 wins, 4 losses and 2 ties . . . The Purple's Thanksgiving Dinner tasted fine. . . . Markoff (L) put on a show scoring two TD's, one from 34 yards out . . . Walsh to Dempsey pass scored another. . . . The Blue got beyond midfield only once — to the 48 yard line . . . Seven Latin fumbles held the score down . . . Longest run was by Graham for 57 yards and a TD but — was called back because of "an infraction of the rules" . . . Blue Stars: Heffernan, Giglio, Stuart, and Sylvester . . . Purple Stars: Markoff, Walsh, Graham, Dempsey, Skinner and Monafo.

LAST YEAR

1952 . . . BLS 30 — EHS 12 . . . Harvard Stadium . . . Game TV-ed, kept attendance down to 14,000 . . . "despite its free-wheeling might Latin had to cash in in the last period of this hat hoister to win" . . . Story of the game is in the scoring: Arena (L) 80 yards with opening kick-off for TD . . . Hadge and Burke (E) collaborated for TD . . . Carey (E) to Burke with a 39 yard pass, then Burke scored on a pitchout . . . At half-time: EHS 12 — BLS 6 . . . Then Connolly (L) 55 yards to equalize . . . then Connolly 22 yards . . . then Dailey (L) intercepted Carey's pass for 24 points total . . . then Smith (L) recovered fumble on EHS six and Capt. Kannegieser went over for the last TD . . . Not one point after touchdown was kicked after the seven TD's . . . "Latin ate up the ground in large gobs, but fumble-itis took over, or penalties prevented scores" . . . Example: Fitzgerald took hand-off on a punt and went 80 yards only to have the officials call clipping on the purple back on the 48 . . . Another: Hasiotis to Dickey pass for 40 yards, then on the next line play — fumble . . .Stars for the Blue: Hadge, Burke, Carey and Kinneally. Stars for the Purple: Capt. Kannegieser and the whole team — when not fumbling. LJD.

English High School Alma Mater

Air: "Maryland, My Maryland"

Alma Mater, tried and true,
English High, Our English High
Oft our hearts may turn to you,
English High, Our English High.
Should e'er the laurel wreath be mine
I'll lay the honor at thy shrine,
Our hearts, our hopes, our prayers are thine,
English High, Our English High.

Personal Cheer

"BRACKETY AX" cheer
with name substituted for
"Team, Team, Team".

English Aweigh

Tune: "Anchors Aweigh"

Go English down the field
Fight till you win;
Let that old football rival
Have it on the Chin chin chin chin
English on top of all
ALWAYS ON TOP
Now comes the time to score
So CRASH THAT RIVAL,
CRASH, THAT RIVAL LINE
Go English down the field,
Sons tried and true;
You'll always know you're
Right when fighting for the Blue blue blue blue
English on top of all
ALWAYS ON TOP
Now comes the time to score
So CRASH THAT RIVAL,
CRASH, THAT RIVAL LINE

Song

On the field of many colors
Latin's banners rise.
Cheer on cheer like volleyed thunder
Echoes to the skies!
See, the Latin team is rushing
Gaining more and more;
Then we'll fight! fight! fight!
For we win by might!
Dear Latin, evermore
